

Trumbull restaurant week kicks off Sunday

Updated: 10/07/2009 12:23:11 AM EDT

TRUMBULL

Restaurant week

kicks off Saturday

"Discover Trumbull Restaurants Week," a new effort to promote the town's dining establishments, kicks off Saturday with a varied menu of fixed-priced meals at nine local eateries.

Organized by the Trumbull Economic Development Commission and the Trumbull Chamber of Commerce, the special three-course meals will be offered through Oct. 18 at the following restaurants: Asian Village, Corner Deli, Ichiro, J. Porter's at the Marriott, Long Hill Deli and Grill, Marie's, Marisa's, "O" Bar and Grill and Old Towne Restaurant.

"There's no question that our residents are interested in dining out, as well as in increasing the dining choices here in town," Deborah Cox, the town's economic development director, said in a statement. "So, we wanted to highlight and support our existing businesses, while we simultaneously work toward increasing future choices."

More details, along with the fixed-price menus, are available at www.trumbulleconomicdevelopment.com.