

EMT-B INITIAL CERTIFICATION

Trumbull EMS is offering students the opportunity to enroll in our Emergency Medical Technician course. This course will cover the required State and National Curriculum, teaching students how to provide emergency medical care to the critically ill or injured.

Graduates of the class will be ready to begin their career in EMS, entering the field with the basic skills required to provide competent patient assessment, treatment, and transport to the most appropriate medical facility in order to access definitive care.

Our dynamic and exciting class covers many aspects of this meaningful career path, including patient extrication and safe handling, emergent management of life threatening conditions using airway management, bleeding control and shock prevention, legal and ethical responsibilities and documentation standards. Students must be 16 or older, with any student under 18 requiring parental consent.
